Cannabis Transporter Licensee Delivery Interruption Procedure

All product listed on a transporter manifest must be delivered to the licensed cannabis business identified on the manifest on the same day the product was manifested for delivery. Product cannot be held overnight by licensed cannabis transporters.

Any deviation to the manifest schedule caused by unforeseen circumstances such as inclement weather must be immediately reported to Bureau of Cannabis Inspection, Bureau Chief, Bresha Brewer (Bresha.B.Brewer@Illinois.gov) and Deputy Bureau Chief Russ Krug (Russell.J.Krug@Illinois.gov), in addition to your assigned ISP inspector and the Illinois Cannabis Control Office (ISP.CannabisControl@Illinois.gov).

Compliance Objective

Driver safety as well as the security of cannabis product should be primary priorities when operating transport vehicles carrying manifested cannabis products.

Please note that while weather in your section of the State may be fine, Illinois is a large state, and the transport teams may encounter inclement weather when traveling to other sectors of the state. Please monitor the following websites and Facebook pages for weather updates. In the event that a manifested delivery cannot be completed due to weather or similar unforeseen circumstances, you must immediately notify your IDOA inspector, Bureau of Cannabis Inspection, Bureau Chief, Bresha Brewer (Bresha.B.Brewer@Illinois.gov), in addition to your assigned ISP inspector and the Illinois Cannabis Control (ISP.CannabisControl@Illinois.gov).

It is understood that weather can be unpredictable, however, it is expected that licensees will exercise caution and good judgement when deciding whether it is safe or worth the risk to ignore predicted inclement or dangerous weather forecasts. It is expected that licensees will use all available tools and weather resources when making a decision regarding the safety of proceeding with planned deliveries despite predicted severe weather alerts.
